As a specialized lawyer with the emphasis on corporate law, conflicts between shareholders and managers, expulsion of shareholders and confiscation of shares in the company I'm well aware of the decisive importance of correct information capable of proof.

But wherefrom do my clients get this precious kind of information which is so crucial in many arguments?

Especially at difficult cases of information procurement Herr Hasenmaier is a highly valuable, competent, discrete and absolutely reliable expert. We and him work and cooperate for justified interests at that.

Herr Hasenmaier - as a professional investigator - creates and strengthens frequently and considerably our bargaining position with his crucial information and proof of evidence. Hereby results arise regularly that would not have been possible without these pieces of information. Additional costs often are amortized many times over.

Anytime and many thanks.
